

South African State Theatre Welcomes the Legato Choral Festival: A Celebration of South African Voices

Pretoria, South Africa – The South African State Theatre (SAST) proudly welcomes the Legato Choral Festival for Chamber and Adult Choirs to the magnificent Opera Theatre on 14 and 15 November 2026, bringing together outstanding ensembles from across greater Tshwane for a celebration of musical excellence, community and the extraordinary power of South African choral music.

Founded in 2021, the Legato Choral Festival has grown into a premier theatre-based choral platform, creating opportunities for choirs to experience the thrill and prestige of performing on a professional theatre stage. Through carefully curated concerts and high production standards, the festival provides singers with an unforgettable artistic experience while offering audiences the beauty, diversity and collective power of choral performance.

More than a festival, Legato celebrates the ability of music to bring people together. It nurtures artistic growth, encourages collaboration between choirs and creates a platform for ensembles to share their cultures, musical identities and artistry with audiences.

This November, the grandeur of the Opera Theatre will come alive with voices in harmony as SAST and Legato celebrate the richness and enduring spirit of South Africa's choral tradition.
